12. Administrative Matters

a. Supply. During resupply operations on 11 March 1967, one of the companies was shorted 3 cases of MCI. A check showed that the correct amount had been loaded aboard aircraft at the Battalion rear. Although the loss of a few cases of MCI did not effect the overall operation, it does have a bad effect on the morale of personnel for them to know that items in good supply and available are being mislaid, lost or pilfered by fellow Marines enroute to them in the field.

b. Medical. There were no unusual medical problems encountered.

13. Special Equipment and Techniques. Techniques used were standard for this type of operation with the exception of the use of brass rudders.

14. Commander's Analysis. Although little contact was made with the enemy, the operation was considered a success. The sweep and clearing of the area aided the Revolutionary Development Program, taking place in the vicinity.
