COMMAND CHRONOLOGYS-3, 1st Tank Battalion, FMFAPRIL 1967OPERATIONS AND TRAININGI. Operations

1. Operation Desoto. The 3rd Platoon (Rein), Company "A" continued to support 3rd Battalion, 7th Marines during the period 1 April 1967 until its termination on 16 April 1967.
2. Operation Canyon. The 2nd Platoon (Rein) with a heavy (3) tank section from the 1st platoon Company "B" attached, supported 1st Battalion, 1st Marines during the period of 6-10 April 1967 during Operation Canyon.
3. Operation Yell. A platoon of tanks consisting of : Three gun tanks and one flame tank from Company "C", and two gun tanks from Company "B" supported 1st Battalion, 1st Marines during the period 18-20 April during Operation Yell.
4. Operation Humboldt. The 3rd Platoon, Company "C" supported 3rd Battalion, 1st Marines during the period 13-18 April 1967 during Operation Humboldt.
5. Operation Grand. The 1st Platoon, Company "B" supported 3rd Battalion, 7th Marines during the period 21-26 April 1967 during Operation Grand.

II. Anti-Tank Activities.

1. During the month of April 1967 this tank battalion experienced 16 mining incidents. Fourteen incidents involved the mining of tanks, and two involved 6X6 trucks on resupply missions to tank positions. As best that can be determined at this time, is that all mines consisted of a large amount of TNT, and were initiated by a pressure type detonator. Damage to tracked vehicles ranged from moderate to extensive, most of the damage being sustained by the tank suspension system. The two 6X6 trucks were a total loss. Deadlined status of mined tanks ranged from a matter of hours to several weeks. The deadline status being dependant upon the extent of damage and availability of replacement parts.
2. One of the 16 tanks damaged by mines is being surveyed for a damaged hull.

ENCLOSURE (1)

UNCLASSIFIED

3. The following casualties were sustained in the tank incidents:

- (a) 4 Marines Med-Evac
- (b) 9 Marines Non-Evac (Treated at aid station)

4. Damage sustained by the two 6X6 trucks, unlike the tanks, were completely destroyed by the mines, and casualties were far greater, as shown below:

- (a) 10 Marines Med-Evac (To Naval Hospital)
- (b) 1 Marine Non-Evac (Treated at aid station)

III. Rocket Assaults.

a. There were two incidents of rocket assaults upon tanks. In both assaults the enemy managed to achieve hits upon two tanks. In the first incident, the rocket hit, but failed to penetrate or damage the vehicle. In the second incident, one round did penetrate the upper, forward, left portion of the hull and enter into the forward left ammunition ready rack, igniting one round of WP and one round of Canister 90mm ammunition. The fire caused by the rocket penetration was able to be controlled and the tank was repaired/restored to an operational status.

b. The type of rockets used in the assaults were of Russian design and origin. They were "Soviet Anti-Tank Grenade Launcher RPG-2".

IV. Southern Defense Sector

a. Headquarters and Service Company continued through the month of April to command and coordinate the activities within the Southern Sector Division Rear Area. The Commanding Officer, 1st Tank Battalion, as Commander of the Southern Sector, caused the following actions to be initiated or responded to:

(1) Twenty-one various missions of Search and Clear, Reconnaissance Security and patrols were accomplished in response to intelligence reports; in addition to providing blocking forces for adjacent units in response to enemy infiltrations.

b. There were a total of 134 coordinated day and night patrols, ambushes, OP's, LP's, and roadblocks accomplished by H&S Company within the Southern Sector with coordination and supervision by the Tank Battalion Command Operations Center.

c. Civic Action Activities were expanded and continued to improve and prosper in those areas where our responsibilities are focused.

~~CLASSIFIED~~CIVIC ACTION

On 1 April, 1967, the 1st Tank Battalion conducted ceremonies dedicating the Pig Breeding Farm. The principal speakers were Lt. Colonel PETERSON, Lt. Colonel CORSON, Major HAU, and 1st Lt. LOCHRIDGE. The principal theme of the remarks by the speakers stressed that the pig farm was an example of what free men can do when they unite to improve their conditions.

During the month of April, the people from the Hamlet of DONG BE were removed from their homes to the four corners area. After the move had been completed, the 1st Tank Battalion, acting upon orders from the 1st Marine Division began clearing a firing lane around the POL perimeter. This, by necessity, called for the knocking down of numerous fruit trees and the destruction of several gardens. The villagers protested to the District Headquarters and further clearing was terminated. This action resulted in several foreign claims which are now being processed.

On 4 April, 1967, an unfavorable incident occurred when a squad of Marines from the 2nd Battalion, 1st Marines, acting upon intelligence, interrupted a Vietnamese funeral. A woman came to the C.P. and informed them that someone was trying to conceal a mine in the village. The woman led them to a spot where a funeral was taking place. She indicated that there was a mine concealed in the casket. The Marines removed the body from the casket and probed the sand within. This created an unfavorable reaction from the family all the way up to the District Chief. The C. A. Officer visited the family and expressed condolences and apologies for the incident.

On 13 April, 1967, a meeting was held with the farmers and a Farmers Cooperative was set up. The farmers elected a chairman, clerk, finance man, and two farm supervisors. Several objections arose however, the main one being the unsuitability of the location. The farmers were opposed to the location of the farm for the following reasons:

- (1) It is located on the other side of the village and approximately one mile from their homes.
- (2) The villagers consider it as not a secure area and they do not like to travel back and forth in that area because of the VC.

The farmers suggested an alternate location which is adjacent to the 1st Tank Battalion C.P. and close to their homes. The policy of this Civil Affairs Office has been to discourage moving the farm, but the success of the project may well depend upon its removal to a location of their choice.

On 23 April, 1967, a Doctor Tapper from an Anti-War group under the leadership of Dr. Benjamin Spock, visited the MedCap held at PHONG BAC market place. The purpose of his visit was an attempt to find Napalm-burned children to substantiate their charges of indiscriminate bombing of civilians. As usual, the only ailments encountered by the MedCap team were those primarily caused by lack of hygiene.

On 29 April 1967, the Battalion Commander and Civil Affairs Officer were invited to a meeting held by the PHONG BAC Buddhist Association. The purpose of the visit was to discuss the erection of a fence around the pagoda and the construction of a proposed school next to the pagoda. The Battalion Commander assured them that the 1st Tank Battalion would make every effort to procure the necessary material. Plans have been drawn up and have been submitted for approval.

During the month of April, the MedCap activities were increased with sick call being held four times a week in the villages. During this period, the MedCap team treated 159 women, 93 men, and 461 children. There were four cases where the MedCap team evacuated civilians with severe cases to the USOHN Hospital in Da Nang.

During April, the C.A. Team distributed four loads of lumber to the Market Place for the purpose of constructing the stalls. Twenty bags of cement were delivered to the PHONG BAC School house for repairs on the structure and ten bags of cement were delivered to the four corners area for the purpose of constructing a water well.

Future plans for the C.A. program in PHONG BAC include the construction of a Public and Buddhist School and construction of a hamlet office and dispensary.

Encl: (1) List of supply items declared to be in a critical status
(2) List of potentially critical items

1. The following report covering the month of April 1967 is submitted in accordance with references (a) and (b).

2. Supply Situation. Supply response has improved at a steady pace over the last month due to the number of requisitions being filled for certain repair parts for track and wheel vehicles. There are still vital repair parts that have had little or no response. These include bulbs for the 18 inch searchlights, left hand torsion bars and track shoe assemblies. Follow-up action is being taken and very little response noticed. Supply response has been adequate for the remaining classes of supply. No problem areas are foreseen at the present time for Class I, III, IV, and V. General Supply support, particularly in clothing and individual equipment, has been improving. Engineer and Motor Transport spare parts support has been generally adequate, with an increased requisition fill rate. Selected suspension and electrical type tank parts still represent the major problem area. In other ordnance areas, supply support has been steadily improving. The command is short one M-51 VTR that is due for replacement from R&E assets within the next 15 days. Acetylene has been in a critical status requiring unreasonable conservation and rationing. There is no immediate relief in sight for this item. One M-3 Compressor for flame tank support was received, bringing the number of operative compressors to two for the DaNang TAOR. Electronics repair parts are generally adequate; however, radio tubes remain in short supply, as are repair parts for CVC helmets. Blank forms are becoming more difficult to obtain. With the high turn over of personnel, both officer and enlisted fitness reports (NAVMC 10147-DD and NAVMC 10233-DD) have become very limited. A similar situation has also developed for the Record of Emergency Data (NAVMC 10526-DD) and for Promotion Warrants (DD-216).

4. Significant Problem Areas. A trend still exists toward the nonavailability of certain motor transport and track vehicle repair parts. Supply response is improving at a slow pace. The urgency of need for these parts continues to be inflated due to non-receipt of stock replenishment orders.

5. Maintenance Situation. The maintenance effort has been able to respond to the needs for operational commitment. Progress has been hampered by extensive battle damage and the criticality of certain repair parts. During the period of this report, mine damage was sustained on 1 M-54 truck, 9 M-48A3 tanks, and 1 M-67A2 flame tank.

Untold manhours are expended on trouble shooting the hydraulic system in an attempt to isolate the problem areas. Technical talent at both the organic and support level is defied by the intricate maze. The presence of a factory trained technical representative is worthy of consideration.

8. Services Situation. Services are generally satisfactory with no significant change during the reporting period.
9. Significant Transportation Problem Areas. None.
10. Other Items of Interest. Specific effort continues to be directed toward preparation for the forthcoming monsoon season. In this report, much is required for cantonment maintenance. Construction material, particularly lumber, remains in short supply. This material will become more and more vital as CONEX containers are turned-in. At present a Butler building for a covered maintenance area is under construction and is a significant contribution toward monsoon preparations and the maintenance effort.

CIVIC ACTION

On 23 March 1967, the 1st Tank Battalion assumed the Civic Action area of responsibility that had been administered by the 3rd Tank Battalion until their move to Phu Bai. The entire 3rd Tank Battalion Civic Action Team was transferred to the 1st Tank Battalion for the purpose of providing for a continuation of underway programs. The most important of these programs is the pig breeding farm and five lesser pig farms. These farms have been stocked with 24 american yorkshire pigs and 38 more pigs are slated for arrival from different sources within the next two months. The purpose of this project is three fold:

- (1) to develop the idea that capitalism is a workable and profitable economic system.
- (2) to help establish an economic base upon which the citizen of Phong Bac through their own efforts can better their community.
- (3) by achieving the above goals the people of Phong Bac will be in a better position from which to make their choice between the government and the Viet Cong.

This Battalion will also be temporarily monitoring the medcap and Civic Action program currently underway in the villages of Yen Bac and Cam Hoa. The 1st A.T. Battalion will make Civic Action, as well as medical personnel available to this battalion.

On the 27th of March, the 1st Tank Battalion relinquished control of the village of Hoa An to the Mobile Construction Battalion 4. The Civil Affairs Officer of the relieving unit was thoroughly briefed on the programs in progress. At the time this Battalion left the village it was felt that significant progress had been made and that the peoples attitude toward self-help and their government had greatly increased.

During the period 18 March to 25 March, the C.A. Officer, Lt. RAY attended a five day Advisor Orientation Course in Saigon. The course was designed to familiarize the student with overall goals and organizations of the free world forces in Vietnam.

During the month of March there were two unfortunate incidents of concern to this Battalion. On 4 March a P.F. went to the home of another P.F in Hoa An to collect a gambling debt. Upon being informed by the debtor that he was unable to pay the debt, the man threw a fragmentation grenade into the house, resulting in the death of two persons and injury to sixteen others, several of which were critically wounded. The evacuation and ensuing investigation was conducted by the 1st M.P. Battalion. On 22 March a tank from the 1st Tank Battalion, returning to the C.P. from a sweep operation, sideswiped a Vietnamese bus. The result of the collision was one dead, 10 injured and extensive damage to the bus. The 1st Tank Battalion took immediate steps to indemnify the victims and it is felt that this prompt action did much to prevent adverse opinion among the local populace. An investigation is currently underway and foreign claims for damages are being processed.

In the month of March, the Civil Affairs Section joined two Vietnamese nurse trainees. At the present time these nurses are to be utilized for med-cap. Future plans include staffing a dispensary in the village on a permanent full time basis with Vietnamese medical personnel.

Projects completed during the month of March were the bridge and culvert project and the beginning of the English Language Classes in Hoa An. During March, construction was begun on the dispensary at Hoa An. Projects completed during the month in Phong Bac was the pig breeding farm. Although some work remains to be done, it is considered to be operational. At the present time there are 14 Yorkshire pigs at the pig breeding farm. On 9 March, movies were shown to the villagers by members of the 244th PYSOPS Battalion. There were approximately 600 persons in attendance. On March 11, the C.A. Team visited the Hoa Phat School and observed the students reciting the RVN pledge of allegiance. ISO photographers were there to record the event.

On March 8th, an inspection of the Civil Affairs Section was conducted by Major MCGILL from G-5. The result of the inspection was considered to be satisfactory.

During the month of March, seven loads of scrap lumber was delivered to the hamlet chief for distribution to needy villagers and 100 school kits were passed out to needy school children. Also delivered to the village chief during the month was 16 sections of steel culvert and six bags of cement for use on the bridge and culvert project. 12 bags of cement was delivered to begin construction on the dispensary.

Current planning for future projects in Phong Bac include extension of the fishing project, construction of a hamlet office and dispensary and the formation of a Farmers Association and Cooperative.

INTELLIGENCE

The weather for March was extremely dry with a recording of precipitation of .16 inches. This is compared with a recording of .31 inches of rain which fell in the preceding month. This lack of precipitation has sustained the trafficability of both roads and terrain.

Within the DaNang TAOR, the 1st Tank Battalion was involved in 75 incidents with the Viet Cong. The results of this action accounted for 51 Viet Cong KIA confirmed, 27 Viet Cong KIA probable, and 11 Viet Cong captured.

The Anti-Tank mine activity continued at a high rate. There were 8 mine incidents, seven of which caused damage to the tanks. The mines employed by the Viet Cong ranged from dud projectiles to wooden box type mines containing TNT of local Viet Cong manufacture. The sizes of the mines varied from 25 to 100 pounds of explosives causing from light to extensive damage to the tanks. Some indicators to watch for in mined areas are:

- (1) Absence of villagers and children where they normally would be, and
- (2) Unusual objects on road or tank trail such as rocks stacked up or sticks laying in a pattern. These are V.C. warning devices.

During the month, a Company B Tank on a night patrol was ambushed by a V.C. unit of unknown size. The ensuing reaction by the Tank/Infantry team resulted in the capture of a considerable amount of weapons and gear and documents of intelligence value. The contents of the documents revealed that the V.C. unit involved was part of the V-4 Company of the 402nd Sapper Battalion with plans to attack the Hoa Cam ARVN Training Center.

Encl: (1) Critical Supply Items

1. The following report covering the period 282400H February 1967 to 312400H March 1967 is submitted in accordance with reference (a) through (c)

2. Logistics Situation. During the reporting period a normal logistics function has continued with particular emphasis in the area of tank maintenance, motor transport maintenance, supply responsiveness, and cantonment improvement. Continued improvement is noted in all areas with the exception of tank maintenance which has declined in responsiveness due to nonavailability of critical parts. Improvement of the cantonment area continues with emphasis on drainage, storage, and maintenance facilities but this effort is retarded by lack of construction material and hardware items.

3. Supply and Distribution

a. Critical Items. See enclosure (1).

b. Significant Problem Areas. A trend still exists toward the nonavailability of certain motor transport and tracked vehicle repair parts. Supply response is improving at a slow pace. At present there is one operative compressor (M-3) for Flame Tank support in the DaNang TOAR. It is anticipated that at least one additional compressor will be received in the immediate future. There is a critical shortage of bulbs for the 18 inch searchlights and aggressive follow-up supply action is being taken (see enclosure (1)). The command is short one M-51 VTR that is due for replacement from R&E assets. There is a distinct shortage of left hand torsion bars that aggressive supply action has failed to alleviate. Acetylene has been in a critical status requiring unreasonable conservation and rationing.

ENCLOSURE (1)

4. Maintenance.

a. Maintenance effort is successful within the Command and continuing effort is made to improve the quality of maintenance. The effort has been hampered by two factors:

(1) Personnel assignment is generally adequate from a billet point of view; however, the productive effort is reduced by security requirements levied on the various maintenance and supply sections.

(2) Since the last R&E tank was received on 1 March 1967 there has been a drop in tank maintenance production due to nonavailability of certain suspension parts. The R&E program permitted latitude in the selective interchange of parts and this source is not presently available. Even though the deadline rate has increased this is not considered significant enough to impair the Command's efficiency. During the period of this report, six M-48A3 tanks sustained mine damage.

b. Significant Problem Areas. There are no significant maintenance problem areas other than as discussed in paragraph 3. above.

1. The Battalion Training Program. Continued to emphasize tank training with special emphasis on tank gunnery. Ranges available for firing the main tank guns continued to be limited in their availability due to friendly forces operating in range impact areas.

2. Weapons Safety Training. The Battalion Weapons Safety Training Program was conducted weekly and continued to emphasize familiarization with safety in the handling of all the small arms utilized within the Battalion.

3. Troop Indoctrination and Orientation. Indoctrination and Orientation lectures were presented to all newly joined personnel during the month of March. Weapons safety training and familiarization firing of all small arms weapon organic to the Battalion were included in this program. The range facilities of the ARVN Hoa Cam Training Center were utilized for all small arms weapons firing.

4. Officers and Staff NCO Schools. Two periods of instruction for Officers and Staff Non-Commissioned Officers were conducted.

9. Anti-Tank Activities. There were a total of eight mine incidents during the month of March. All mines being detonated by tanks. Seven of the mines damaged the tanks, the eighth detonated but caused no damage to tank or crewmen. Company B detonated five mines in the 1st Marines and 26th Marines sectors of the TAOR.

Company B, 3rd Tank Battalion detonated one mine in the 9th Marines sector of the TAOR.

Company C detonated two mines in the 1st Marines Sector of the Division TAOR. One mine detonated failed to cause any damage to vehicle.

In most cases the mines consisted of a very large explosive charge which caused moderate to extensive damage to the tank suspension system. Injuries to tank crew members were light as a result of mine explosions. Three crewmen were wounded by sniper fire during one of the mined tank recovery operations.
