TAB A OF ENCL(2)

3. Intelligence. Combined Action Company accomplishments in the Red Beach TAOR include in the overall picture a seemingly less hostile atmosphere. Since its inception, VC activities seemed to have quieted down considerably. There have been incidents reported, however investigation has not revealed any significant results. The attitude of the people has shown change in that there was a time, not long ago, when Marines traveling through the area to the north were greeted with blank stares and little or no response. Regular visitations of CAC Marines in the villages seem to have changed this somewhat in that many of the locals, children and adults alike, greet Marines with smiles, waves, or at least, signs of recognition. On 6 February 1967, the Sub-Hamlet Chief of Mieu Tach San was assassinated. Previous to that another Sub-Hamlet Chief was kidnapped by VC and never returned to his Hamlet. This might indicate that the Viet Cong are concerned with the possibility of U. S. and Popular Forces winning the confidence of the people.

4. Training

a. The Headquarters and Service Battalion S-3 office was officially established on 15 February 1967 under the M Series T/O for a Headquarters and Service Battalion, Force Service Regiment.

b. Being a newly organized unit, all files are being established. Training publications and manuals are in the process of being ordered through the Commanding General, Marine Corps Supply Activity, 1100 South Broad Street, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. Training Orders and Bulletins are being written and published. School quotas are being established in accordance with current regulations for the following schools:

a. The Civil Affairs Program progressed quite rapidly during the past month. The completion of many projects was realized and many new projects were in the planning stages.

b. Construction Projects:

(1) The school at Phuoc Nghia was formally dedicated on 6 February 1967. Brigadier General HERBOLD was the principal speaker. The 1st Marine Division Band was present. This school was built entirely with Vietnamese labor, with little supervision by U. S. forces. The material was mostly donated by U.S.A.I.D.

(2) On 6 February 1967, the Hoa Khanh Children's Hospital was formally dedicated. Brigadier General HERBOLD was again the main speaker. There were many guests present, including military, U. S. civilians and Vietnamese. This hospital can care for approximately 60 people at any one time. This hospital, located within the confines of Camp Books, was constructed by members of this Command primarily from salvaged materials. It is supported with supplies received from the Medical Civil Action Program (Med-Cap).

(3) The Nam O School, which began construction during January 1967 is nearing completion. This school, again, built with U.S.A.I.D. products, was built with combined U. S. and Vietnamese labor. Dedication ceremonies will take place on 20 March 1967.

c. The "Tet" holidays were celebrated on the base for the Vietnamese workers and their families. Movies were shown, lunch served to all. Approximately 800 Vietnamese participated.

d. Med-Cap Program. During the past month over 3900 people were treated for illness. The decrease over the previous month is due entirely to the "Tet" holidays.

e. New Projects:

(1) A church at Phuoc Nghia is 30% completed. It is being built with Vietnamese labor and American materials.

(2) A school in Trung Phuoc is presently under construction. It will be a three (3) room building. The target date for completion is 15 April 1967.

(3) A market place in Hoa Khanh is presently being constructed. The target date for this projects' completion is 20 March 1967.

10. Communications

Truck Company participated in a total of five (5) convoys during the month of February. Providing logistical support to An Hoa in the form of Class III and Class IV items.

The initial influx of multi-fuel vehicles began to arrive in Truck Company's motor pool during the month of February with the addition of four M-51A2 dump trucks and one M-50A1 water tanker.

Since operation of the multi-fuel vehicles requires a different technique than is used in operating gasoline powered vehicles, a Multi-fuel Operators' School was established and is being phased into the Company Training Schedule.

Concurrent with these events, the addition of the 1stFSR into FIC brought with it a variety of administrative changes. The location of the Company Office had to be changed in order to make room for the Commands increasing size. The existing T/O and T/E also required revision. One of these changes resulted in Truck Company gaining operational control over all the vehicles of H&S Battalion.

With this increase in vehicles and personnel, it became necessary and fessible to establish a sub-pool at the Transit Center. Under the supervision of SSgt C. B. CULBERTSON, this sub-pool became operational on 26 February 1967.

Seeking to improve the welfare and morale of the troops in the Regiment, it was deemed advisable to find some way to provide the evening work crews with hot meals comparable to those served in the existing mess hall. With this goal in mind, the Mess Officer and Motor Transport Officer came up with the idea of a Mobile Kitchen. Under the direction of SSgt E. S. NAKISO and Corporal E. BANKS, a 2½ ton M-35 was outfitted with galley equipment and each evening drives to different locations preparing hot meals on the spot for the night crews.

While the tactical considerations of logistic support are the first concern of this Company, secondary civic action programs are also in existence. A collection was taken and sufficient funds were donated in order to purchase school supplies for the village of Thanh Hoi Anh.

A ceremony was conducted on 12 February 1967 by Brigadier General H. M. ELWOOD and Brigadier General J. E. HERBOLD in which Truck Company received its Treasury Department Minuteman Flag for achieving over 90% participation in the U. S. Savings Bond Program.

Since keeping the vehicles operational is the chief concern as far as providing transportation support is concerned, it is particularly noteworthy that Truck Company has maintained an average vehicle availability rate of 91% during the month of February. With the prospect of new vehicles, optimistically it is expected that this availability rate will increase to 100%.

NARRATIVE SUMMARY

a. During the period covered by this report Communication Company relocated two (2) radio nets from Radio Central in the Communication Company Operational Compound to the Logistic Operations Centers at Force Logistics Headquarters. This was accomplished with a minimum of interruption of service. Radio vehicles were provided for the visits of Lieutenant General KRULAK, Commanding General Fleet Marine Force Pacific, and Major General BUSE, Quartermaster General of the Marine Corps. A public address system was provided for the First Anniversary Ceremony of the Force Logistic Command and for the school dedication ceremony at the Vietnamese Village of Nam O.

Telephone service was improved through switchboard operator training and more clearly defining the duties of the switchboard supervisors. The Electronics Maintenance Shop continued to maintain "on line" equipment. A letter has been submitted requesting that repair of Fixed Plant Tole-type equipment be authorized for this company. The message center has been reorganized to include a transmission and receiving section. This has lessened the noise in the working area of the message center. An FCC-17 tone pack has been added to improve the quality of transmissions from the Communication Center. In addition a tile dock has been laid around the teletype equipment in an effort to reduce the amount of dust which is a factor in equipment deterioration.

Several personnel have been TAD for training in connection with the establishment of the Data Communication Facility. Staff Sergeant FRANKLIN is at the U. S. Army Strategic Communication Facility at Phu Lam Vietnam to learn repair of equipment utilized in the Autodin System. Sergeant BURCH is TAD at Clark Air Base in the Phillipines to learn repair of IHM equipment used in Data Communication transmissions. Staff Sergeant EVANS was transferred to Force Logistics Support Group Bravo at Chu Lai to work in the Electronics Maintenance Shop of that organization which will be utilized by that organization in support of the First Marine Division. A teletype repairman Sergeant PIETRAS has rotated to CONUS. In addition to operational commitments this company has been tasked with sandbagging in the Communication Company Operational Facilities. This has been an all hands effort.
