NARRATIVE SUMMARY

During October, the 4th Battalion, 12th Marines retained the primary mission of General Support of 3d Marine Division. Again, it provided "Quick Fire Channels" to four Direct Support Battalions (1/12, 2/12, 3/12, and 5/4). These unofficial reinforcing roles again accounted for the large number of observed missions, with minimum response time. Direct Support fires were also furnished to 62 Recon teams.

The battalion continued to control the tactical fires of the 2d Platoon, 1st 8" Howitzer Battery located at LZ PETE and later at the ROCKPILE. The 4th Battalion continued to control the General Support fires in the Lancaster II (3d and 9th Marines) and Scotland II (4th and 9th Marines) A.O.'s.

The tactical and technical fire direction of the three organic batteries were again centrally controlled in the Battalion FDC at CAMP CARROLL. This again provided the battalion with the capability of massing fires instantaneously over a whole front.

On the 5th, Lima 4/12 displaced from the ROCKPILE to DONG HA, and Mike 4/12 displaced from DONG HA to the ROCKPILE.

On the 20th, 3 guns from Mike displaced from DONG HA to DIE MARKER bunker site C-1 to provide support for 1st ARVN. Also on the 22d, the 8" Platoon at LZ PETE displaced to the ROCKPILE. On the 24th, the 3 guns at DIE MARKER bunker site C-1 returned to DONG HA.

The battalion's fire support capability was greatly enhanced with the addition of four new M109 155mm Howitzers (SP). Two were given to Kilo 4/12, one to Lima/4/12, and one to Mike 4/12.

Throughout the month, the battalion controlled the tactical fires of four firing units and technical fires of three. General Support fires for the entire Division were provided in the usual timely and accurate manner.

On the 31st of October, Kilo displaced to A-3 to assume a primary mission of counter battery fire. Also on the 31st three guns of Mike displaced to CON THIEN to assume the role of counter battery fire.
