PART II

NARRATIVE SUMMARY

During the month of December the Battalion continued to conduct extensive patrols and ambushes within the Phu Bai TAOR in addition to the execution of the numerous security missions assigned. The patrols and ambushes were oriented to interdict, disrupt and close the enemy's routes of communication, supply and infiltration. The frequent sightings of and contacts with enemy units indicated that the enemy routes into populated areas for supply, recruiting and propaganda purposes have been correctly identified and that the patrol and ambush efforts have been correctly targeted.

[redacted] UNCLASSIFIED

At the beginning of the month the weather favored intensive operations within the Phu Bai TAOR and the five rifle companies were employed in the following manner: one company operated between the Dap Dinh River and the Division Boundary (NS GL ZD 11) with primary emphasis on the enemy routes into the Phu Loc District Headquarters (ZD 080980) and the heavily populated Cau Hai (ZD 084005) area; one reinforced company (four rifle platoons) operated between the northern boundary of the Phu Bai TAOR and the Dap Dinh River; one company (-) (two rifle platoons) provided security for six bridges located along National Route 1; one company provided security for the MCB 121 Rock Quarry (YD 743133) and ferry (YD 756137) in Nam Hoa District; one company provided the Division Sparrow Hawk force and the Battalion Reserve during the day and at night was employed to provide ambushes in proximity to the Phu Bai Vital Area and the enemy routes into the Phu Bai Hamlets.

However, the cold and wet weather that prevailed during the first half of the month soon reduced the Battalion's effectiveness. Periods of rest and rehabilitation were required to maintain the combat readiness of both men and materiel. Four companies (minus) (two rifle platoons) were employed in company areas of operations throughout the TAOR. The reserve platoons of each company were frequently rotated so as to provide approximately 24 hours of rest and rehabilitation each 72 hours. The reserve platoons also constituted the Division Sparrow Hawk and the Battalion Reserve.

On 28 December the 3rd Marine Division boundary was shifted from NS GL ZD 11 to a line approximately 1000 meters east of the Troui River. The reduction of the size of the Phu Bai TAOR permitted a higher concentration of patrols and ambushes within the smaller TAOR.

4. Intelligence (Phu Bai TAOR)

a. Enemy situation at beginning of period: the enemy continued close contact with friendly forces employing small arms fire and mortar attacks, while attempting to gain entrance to the village areas adjacent to Highway 1. Throughout the reporting period, intelligence reports indicated that the Phu Bai Combat Base, Phu Loc District Headquarters and Marine units at the Rock Crusher and Ferry Site in vicinity of Nam Hoa District Headquarters would be attacked. Although Phu Loc District Headquarters was not attacked, the Phu Bai Combat Base received an 82mm mortar attack with propaganda leaflets inside the cannisters. The Marine positions at the Rock Crusher and Ferry Site in the vicinity of Nam Hoa District Headquarters received 3 mortar attacks. The attack on 6 Dec was combined with a mortar attack on the Nam Hoa District Headquarters.

b. Enemy initiated incidents

(1) Contacts - The enemy initiated twenty-two contacts during the month of December.

(2) Snipers - Nine sniper incidents were reported during th period.

(3) Mortar Attacks - Six enemy mortar attacks occurred during the reporting period as follows:

c. Summary of enemy casualties, POWs, and equipment captured.

(1)	KIA (C)	22
(2)	KIA (P)	12
(3)	POWs	0
(4)	Wpns Captured	10

d. Significant trends during the period:

(1) The VC/NVA continued their attempts to enter village areas adjacent to Highwy 1 from (YD 9012) to (YD 9705). The size of VC/NVA units has increased. One company size contact was made during the period.

(2) Agent reports continue to emphasize rice collection efforts. This emphasis cannot be verified by our contacts. Obviously the VC/NVA did gather rice from the villagers on a limited basis.

e. Enemy situation at the end of the period: the enemy has the capability to launch ground/mortar attacks in areas within or adjacent to the Phu Bai TAOR at any time and any place of his choosing. Recent Chieu Hoi's have indicated the presence of a newly formed regiment deployed in the vicinity of the BACH MA Mountain area (ZC 0591).

f. Weather

(1) The onset of cold and wet weather adversely effected combat operations. The effects of the weather were reduced by rotating personnel from the field more frequently, although this measure reduced the number of patrols and ambushes the Battalion was able to conduct.

(2) Precipitation: During December there were 21 days with rainfall resulting in a total of 17.44 inches of rain.

(3) Temperatures: High - 83° F.

Low - 54° F.

5. Operations

a. Command Relations. The Battalion operated under the operational and administrative control of the 3d Marine Division during December.

DECLASSIFIED

b. Major Operations Conducted. None

c. New Techniques

(1) Many of the ambushes suffered casualties after contact because the ambush unit would sweep the killing zone to determine the extent of enemy casualties and thereby exposed themselves under the illumination. As a result, the Battalion FSCC tightly controlled all requests for 81mm mortar or artillery illumination, forcing the ambush leader to re-evaluate the gro situation. The S-3 debriefed several ambush leaders and learne that it was often times more advantageous to hold off illumination as it would have worked more to the enemy's advantage than ours.

(2) The triangle area ambush was only employed briefly because the tactical situation forced a redisposition of forces However, it is felt that the technique is excellent. The concept is simply to have three ambushes positioned approximately 600 meters from one another, with two up and one back, so that in the event of contact by one ambush another could maneuver into position either behind the enemy or on his flank thereby inflicting greater casualties. It was noted that when the VC/NVA were hit by one of our ambushes the enemy would pull back approximately 100 to 200 meters, return fire and await our illumination mission and subsequent sweep. Since this enemy tactic was repeated on several occasions it was decided not to fire illumination for the friendly unit which made contact but instead maneuver one of the mutually supporting ambushes behind or onto the flank of the waiting enemy force. Once the maneuver force reached a predesignated position, illumination would be fired. This concept does demand a high degree of planning a coordination. (See Tab C)

d. Training

(1) The S-3 section conducted a two hour period of ambush training for each rifle platoon. The training period consisted of one hour of lecture and one hour of practical application.

(2) Each rifle platoon of the Battalion conducted training in attack of fortified position in preparation for the Battalion's redeployment to the DMZ Area.

(3) Training was also conducted on the following general military subjects:

(a) Weapons technical training

(b) Technique of fire

(a) 5 HE missions were fired in support of the Battalion.

(b) 20 illumination missions were fired in support of the Battalion.

(c) 1146 H&I targets were attacked at the Battalion's request.

(d) There were 4 significant artillery missions fired in support of the Battalion.

(1) At 081515H Dec 67 B/1/9 reported 1 VC/NVA company with mortars and machine guns. 1st 155 Gun/Battery fired at YD 702152 with AO observing. Target coverage was good.

(2) At 222209H Dec 67 E3/2/26 reported that they were in contact and were receiving incoming mortar fire. B Battery 1/13 fired an HE mission at grid YD 895088. Target coverage was good and the enemy mortars were silenced.

(3) At 242205H Dec 67 F3/2/26 reported that they were in contact with approximately 10-15 VC. B Battery 1/13 fired illumination at YD 950084 expending 114 rounds.

(4) At 251959H Dec 67 E1/2/26 reported sighting mortar flashes from four tubes to their front and observed the roun landing between their position and the mortar position. B Battery 1/13 fired an HE mission at grid YD 895095. A search of the area next morning revealed that artillery roun had landed within 20 meters of the mortar site.

(2) The Battalion continued to employ twelve 81mm mortars. Two sections were maintained within the Phu Bai Vital Area in support of the defense of the Vital Area and Battalion units within range of the mortar positions. One squad was maintained at Col Co Beach in support of the 3d SP Bn.

DECLASSIFIED

DECLASSIFIED

The remaining squads were deployed in CAP compounds and with Battalion units and combat outposts to provide mortar support throughout the Phu Bai TAOR.

(a) 6 HE missions were fired in support of the Battalion and other friendly units.

(b) 37 illumination missions were fired in support of the Battalion and other friendly units.

(c) 1303 H&I targets were fired.

(d) Significant 81mm Mortar missions.

(1) At 251959H Dec 67 E1/2/26 reported sighting mortar flashes to the front of their position. The 81mm tube located at CAP-H3 fired an HE mission with good coverage on target.

f. Air Support. During the month of December the Battalion received the following air support.

(1) Resupply: 15 missions lifting 63,743 pounds of supplies and equipment and 76 troops.

(2) DAS/CAS. There were no DAS/CAS missions flown in our support this month.

(3) TPQ. 491 targets were requested, 185 targets were attacked.

(4) Flare ships. Two flare ship missions were flown.

(5) Observation. 12 air observation missions were flown by Aerial Observers and 10 missions were flown for personnel of the Battalion to conduct aerial reconnaissances.

(6) Medevacs. 41 personnel were medevaced by helicopter.

6. Logistics

a. Supply. Class I, III, and V supply support during this period was satisfactory. Some deficiencies were encountered in classes II and IV, particularly 782 gear, body armor, and jungle clothing/boots were not available in the smaller sizes. A limited shipment of M-16 magazine assemblies gave some relief from a shortage that has been noted previously. Magazines for the .45 cal pistol remain in short supply.

b. Equipment

(1) A complete exchange of M-16 rifles was completed during the month.

(2) 2 starlight scopes were received. The Battalion presently has 10 starlight scopes.

c. Maintenance. A severe shortage of repair parts for both motor transport and communications equipment continues to exist. At the end of the month only ten of twenty M-422 vehicles were operational.

d. Food Services. The Battalion mess continues to serve A rations at every meal with ice cream served on special occasions. Milk is served at every meal. Every member of the command was served a hot holiday meal on 25 December including personnel on combat outposts. A garbage shack was completed during this period by Base Public Works, thereby improving the sanitation of th mess.

e. Cantonement. Police and maintenance of the cantonement continues on a daily basis. The lack of proper equipment and material with which to check and contain erosion caused by drainage of heavy rains poses a continuing problem. There are no hot showers available for the Battalion's cantonement. Some limited relief has been managed through negotiations with an adjacent command. It is considered extremely important that infantry troops have facilities to take hot showers after they have spent an extended period of time in the field under adverse weather conditions.

f. Transportation. Transportation requirements continue to be met satisfactorily by 3rd Motor Transport Battalion. Helicopter support has been limited by adverse weather conditions.

g. Hospitalization and Evacuation. The Battalion continues to be supported by Co A, 3d Medical Battalion.

17 DEC 1967

Ser: 009867

From: Commanding Officer, 2d Battalion, 26th Marines
Action: 2d Battalion, 26th Marines

Operation Order: 119-67

Enemy activity over the past ten days has been centered in a area running from Phu Bai I to the CAP H-8 area. Groups of 8-60 men have been noted trying to penetrate the populated areas commencing as early as 1930. Rice collection and Reconnaisance appears to be thir primary missions. In the contacts to date the enemy upon being hit pulls back a few hundred meters waiting for our illumination and subsequent sweep. It is during this period that we expose ourselves, take casualties and allow the enemy to escape unpursued. In order to improve our KIA ratio and destroy an enemy unit on the battlefield the following concept of operation has been adopted.

CONCEPT OF OPERATION:

One company reinforced and one company minus from 2/26 will establish night time ambushes in conjunction with CAC A and H. Two ambushes from 2/26 and one CAP ambush will form a triangle type area ambush for mutual support. Each individual ambush site will have the capability to move at night in order to hit the enemies rear or flank.

The following coordinating instructions must be adhered too during the coordination between 2/26 and CAC units.

COORDINATING INSTRUCTIONS:

1. Period of operation 8, 9, 10 December.
2. The H & E Company commanders will make liaison with CAC H Company commander and the G Company commander will make liaison with CAC A Company commander.
3. All platoon commanders from both units are considered to be co-equal during coordination. Positioning of ambush sites must be arrived at mutually. Any disagreements will be resolved by the Company commanders of both units.
4. All platoon commanders from 2/26 will coordinate with the CAP Commander in their area of peration.
5. All units will be in the ambush site by 1930 each evening.
6. Routes to ambush sites must be closely scrutinized and accurately timed.
7. CAP ambushes will be a minimum of 750 meters from 2/26. However, 2/26 units may close to 500 meters of one another.
8. CAP patrols will not ambush beyond 1500 to 1700 meters from their CAP compound.
9. All CAP ambushes will return to their compounds no sooner than 0100 each night.

9.a The CAP ambush will be located to the rear of 2/26 ambusher in the triangle.

10. After ambush activities have been coordinated by the platoon commanders the sites will be sent by brust prints designation to all company commanders who will inturn forward them to higher headquarters.
11. All activities will be in before 1200 the day of the planned activities.

COMMAND AND COMMUNICATIONS:

1. Company commanders from 2/26 will locate their CP's in the CAP compound from which they can best control their units.
2. The company commanders from 2/26 will locate their company and Battalion tactical net with the CAC tactical net. Therefore instructions can be passed to all ambushes and requests for fire support coordinated.
