Part II Narrative of Significant Highlights.

Continued good weather during April 1969, enabled the Falcons of VMFA-334 to log an impressive 621 sorties and 708.4 hours supporting III MAF, 7th AF, CTF 77, ROK and ARVN forces in operations Steel Tiger, Maine Crag, Massachusetts Striker, Purple Martin, Oklahoma Hills and Victory Dragon.

On 20 April in a classic close air support situation Major A. G. POTENZA (pilot) and Captain K. E. STRAYHORN (RIO) led a section of F4J's supporting Americal Division forces under the control of Helix 33. The devastating accuracy of the strike resulted in six KDA, four structures destroyed, two structures damaged, two secondary fires and a secondary explosion.

On 29 April Major M. H. BRANUM (pilot) and Captain H. W. GIBBS (RIO) attacked a storage area in the 101st Airborne TAD under the control of Bilk 35. Their section of Phantoms were credited with fifteen fortifications destroyed and ten damaged, one military structure destroyed, a tunnel complex opened and a large secondary explosion.

On 3 April 1969 Colonel R. S. RASH (pilot) and 1stLt J. W. LEIST (RIO) took a .50 cal hit through the starboard ramp while striking a target in the DMZ. The rear canopy was jettisoned because of smoke in the cockpit. The aircraft experienced a utility hydraulic failure, lost both generators and had an arresting hook malfunction which prevented making an arrested landing. Due to the superior aimanship of this crew the aircraft was landed normally at DaNang. VMFA-334 had three other aircraft hit incidents during April all attributed to Direct Enemy Action involving limited damage and no injuries.

Despite the burdens of combat air operations VMFA-334 participated in the 1st Marine Aircraft Wing FIREX - 69 at NAS Cubi Point. Four aircraft and eight aircrews fired 3 Sparrows and 4 Sidewinders during this phase of the FIREX. LtCol S. E. D'ANGELO III and Captain K. E. STRAYHORN (RIO) were credited with a direct hit against the BQI 34A with their AIM 7E Missile.
