The objectives of the program are to prevent the duplication of effort of DOD personnel and functions, achieve the lowest unit cost to the DOD through consolidation of procurement requirements, and attain the highest degree of procurement efficiency.

Commodity Assignments

I. CRITERIA FOR COMMODITY ASSIGNMENTS

A. Commodities which meet all of the following criteria, including those recommended for assignment as the result of studies made by the Armed Forces Supply Support Center, will be considered by ASD(I&L) for assignment on either an FSC or an item basis.

1. The items have been classified on the basis of approved DOD criteria:
 - a. For retention for management by each requiring service and are a part of a homogeneous group in common use between two or more military services, or
 - b. for management by a Single Manager, or
 - c. for Integrated Military Management and not designated for management by a Single Manager.
2. The items are identifiable by acceptable specifications, plans, drawings, etc.
3. The items are procured in sufficient quantity on a repetitive basis to effect a savings greater than any additional cost that may be inherent in consolidated procurement procedures. Both peacetime and mobilization requirements will be included when reviewing items for assignment.

II. METHOD AND BASIS FOR DESIGNATING ASSIGNEES

A. Commodity assignments will be made by ASD(I&L) to the Military Departments if considered appropriate in accordance with paragraph I A above. Center studies referred to in paragraph I A above will include the following data and other data considered pertinent to indicate each Department's current and future interest in the commodity.

- * 1. Value of the Department's procurement, inventory, and sales program, considering both peacetime and mobilization requirements.
 - * 2. Department's average contract price for the items involved.
- * These data are to be furnished to the Armed Forces Supply Support Center by each Military Department as requested.

3. Department's procurement efficiency and effectiveness.
4. Adequacy of the Department's procurement staff and experience in relation to the commodity involved.
- * 5. Department's technical facilities in relation to the commodity involved.
- * 6. Department's relations with the industry involved.
7. Views of industry, if appropriate.

III. PROCEDURAL DETAIL

- A. Commodity assignments will be made on a Federal Supply Class basis or, if this is not practicable, on the basis of items or homogeneous groups of items. General exclusions and exceptions to applicability of Commodity Assignments are listed in paragraph C below. Other excluded items approved by ASD(I&L) are indicated in Attachment 1 to this Inclosure under the appropriate Federal Supply Class.
- B. The Procuring Department, when applicable, will establish in collaboration with the Requiring Departments an economical central buy point for items within its cognizance which have been decentralized by the Requiring Departments. The economical central buy point will be $2,500.00, or higher as determined by the inventory control point of the Procuring Department. When Requiring Departments intend to procure decentralized items in amounts which would exceed the economical central buy point, such procurement actions will be processed by the Procuring Department.
- C. General exclusions and exceptions to applicability of Commodity Assignments are as follows:
 1. Emergency procurements.
 2. Procurements not in excess of $2,500.00.
 3. Procurement of Authorized Local Purchase Items in amounts not exceeding the economical central buy point.
 4. Research and Development Items.
 5. Items which require continuous redesign or modification during the production phase.
 6. Items excluded from coordinated procurement in accordance with classification action under the DOD item management coding criteria.

* These data are to be furnished to the Armed Forces Supply Support Center by each Military Department as requested.

- D. The Procuring Department, in conjunction with the Requiring Departments, will (where consistent with variable stock and safety level procedures) establish a procurement cycle for each of its Commodity Assignments. The Requiring Departments will be responsible for adhering to this procurement cycle so that the Procuring Department can effect procurement of consolidated quantities in order to achieve the lowest possible unit cost to the DOD. The Procuring Department will keep the Requiring Department informed of the activities to which MIPRs (DD Form 448) are to be sent and the lead time and dates for submission of MIPRs. The Procuring Department will accommodate justified deviations from the procurement cycle.
- E. Pursuant to instructions to be issued by the Armed Forces Supply Support Center, the Procuring Department, after coordination with the Requiring Departments, will prepare and disseminate through the Federal Catalog System a statement of the content of its assignment, itemized by Federal Stock Number, to include items decentralized by the Requiring Departments. Cognizant inventory control points of all Military Departments will annotate their inventory management records to reflect the items under Single Department Procurement Assignments, the procuring agency, and relevant economical central buy points, when applicable, for items which they have decentralized. As a minimum, these data will also be reflected in military service stock lists for decentralized items having an established economical central buy point.
- F. In describing items to be procured under these assignments, the Requiring Department will use the Federal Stock Number and description or other acceptable identifying media.
- G. Upon request, the Requiring Department will furnish the Procuring Department with advanced planning data as mutually agreed upon. In this connection, DOD formats may be used providing such formats (1) contain advance procurement planning data, (2) are applicable to the item(s) or commodities listed, (3) require data that is available at the time requested, and (4) are not in conflict with existing DOD directives and instructions which govern the submission of the respective format.
- H. The MIPR will be used for requesting procurement of supplies under the DOD Coordinated Procurement Program (ASPR 16-601), except in the case of coal and those commodities designated to be requisitioned from the Single Manager.
- I. MIPRs and related contracts will be handled as outlined in the ASPR and in DOD Instruction 4000.17.

IV. LIST OF COMMODITIES

Attachment 1 to this Inclosure lists the Commodity Areas assigned to each Military Department, Single Manager and the GSA.

V. IMPLEMENTING PROCEDURE FORMAT

Attachment 2 to this Inclosure contains the instructions and format which are to be used by Procuring Departments, in conjunction with Requiring Departments, to implement each of their Commodity Assignments under Single Department Procurement.

VI. ANNOTATION OF INVENTORY CONTROL POINT ITEM MANAGEMENT RECORDS

Each Military Department is responsible for insuring that the Inventory Control Points which manage the Federal Supply Classes, listed in Attachment 1 to this Inclosure, annotate their item management records to indicate the items which are subject to coordinated procurement including those items decentralized and the relevant economical central buy points.

IMPLEMENTING PROCEDURE FORMAT FOR COMMODITY ASSIGNMENTS
UNDER SINGLE DEPARTMENT PROCUREMENT

A. General

1. Implementing procedures, in order to be adequate for the purpose intended, must be prepared in such detail that personnel at the operating levels can process procurement properly without having to draw on numerous sources of information concerning the assignment. The Standard Format, which follows, has been and will continue to be used as a guide for the development and description of detailed procedures followed by Procuring and Requiring Departments.

2. Implementing procedures, patterned after the Standard Format, are developed and maintained by the department or agency assigned procurement responsibility, in collaboration with the Requiring Departments.

3. The Procuring Department or agency, prior to its promulgation of the implementing procedures or substantive changes thereto, will submit such procedures to ASD(I&L) for review and approval. Minor changes need not be submitted for approval, but ASD(I&L) will be notified of such changes upon promulgation. The Military Departments are responsible for disseminating information concerning these assignments, together with the implementing procedures, to all cognizant elements of their departments.

B. Standard Format

1. Authority and Coverage

- a. OSD Directive or Instruction establishing assignment.
- b. Identification of material assigned:

Positive identification of the items procured by the Assigned Department utilizing Federal Supply Catalog Nomenclature. This identification may be accomplished by an attached itemized listing or by reference to pertinent Federal Supply Catalog documents such as stock lists, catalogs or specifications where feasible. Provisions shall be made for keeping the listing up to date.

2. Contacts and Liaison

- a. List of procurement functions, indicating bureau, command or technical service responsible for each.
- b. Designation of office and telephone number to be contacted with regard to any questions arising in particular functional areas. This will apply to both Requiring and Procuring Departments.

3. Notification of Requirements for Procurement Planning Purposes

Provision will be made for notifying Procuring Departments upon request of budget requirements and proposed phased procurement programs of Requiring Departments. Provision should also be made to advise the Procuring Department when significant deviations in program occur. For these purposes, appropriate DOD Formats prescribed in paragraph III G of Inclosure 1 will be used.

4. Purchasing

a. Operational Phases of Procurement Planning

Procurement planning procedures will include procurement cycles for submission of requirements and purchase requests by items or group of items, provision for interim purchase requests, consolidation of requirements, market analyses, and determination of patterns for phased placement of orders.

b. Preparation and Forwarding of MIPR's

Implementing procedures should describe channels for forwarding of purchase requests (MIPR's or other authorized documents such as DD Form 416) and the number of MIPR copies required. Description shall, as appropriate, provide for details insuring prompt procurement and diminution of lead-time. Also to be covered are: the proper execution of the MIPR in connection with use of Federal Item Identification Data; delivery schedules; shipping, preservation, packaging, packing and marking instructions; accounting data; payment instructions; distribution of documents; arranging for urgent delivery; certification of determinations and findings in accordance with ASPR Section V; arranging for operational tests and follow-on production; provision for pre-award or pre-production sampling; variations in quantity in accordance with DOD Instruction 4000.17; use of qualified products lists; and the combination of items in MIPR's to secure the advantages of consolidation.

c. Lead-Time

Lead-time table showing the approximate normal lead-time involved in procurement of the assigned items or types of commodities. Lead-time should reflect the estimated time between receipt of a MIPR by the Procuring Department and delivery of the requirement to the carrier for shipment to the first destination. All available lead-time factors, such as time required for administrative operations, furnishing of government property or material, production, shipping and recording, should be taken into consideration in estimating the total normal lead-time.

d. Submission of Specifications

Indicate type and number of copies to be submitted to the Procuring Department. If production facilities are available, use of reproducible drawings and specifications should be given consideration.

e. Delegation of Purchase Authority

- (1) Provisions which will indicate procedures to be followed in order to fulfill an emergency requirement (ASPR Section V).
- (2) Policy regarding purchases not in excess of $2500.00.
- (3) Policy regarding procurement of authorized local purchase items.
- (4) Policy regarding research and development procurements.
- (5) Policy regarding items which require continuous design, redesign or modification during the production phase.
- (6) Policy regarding manufacturing facilities (ASPR Section V).

f. Administration of MIPR's

- (1) Notification of Action--Method of acknowledging receipt of a MIPR within a stipulated number of days and advising as to meeting the delivery date. Acceptance of MIPR's for obligational purposes (see ASPR Section V and DOD Instruction 4000.17). Provision for inaccurate or incomplete MIPR's.
- (2) Sufficiency of Funds--Procedures for continuously appraising sufficiency of funds and acquiring additional funds (refer to ASPR Section V, DOD Instruction 4000.17, and related policy directives).
- (3) Notification of Inability to Obligate--Provision for notifying Requiring Department concerning possible failure to obligate funds by the end of the Fiscal Year in case of direct-citation procurement under annual appropriations.
