SOMETHING ABOUT CHILOCCO.

ONE year ago in an article regarding the enrollment of new pupils, THE INDIAN SCHOOL JOURNAL stated that the new administration at Chilocco "had no revolutionary policies to announce and did not wish to put out any glowing paper promises; that, instead, it preferred to wait and be judged by its fruits; and that believing the building of good character is of first importance, without which academic and industrial training are of small value, it would be the special aim to establish and maintain at Chilocco a wholesome moral and religious atmosphere and to inculcate proper ideas and habits of living, duty, service, obedience, and thrift."

Not only have the fruits of the year's work been exceedingly satisfactory along the lines of the special endeavors as above outlined, but the spirit of satisfaction, contentment and cooperation marking the close of the year, among both pupils and employes, are an indication of a still larger measure of success during the next school year and in the years to come.

In point of location, climate, resources, sanitation, and environment, Chilocco is unexcelled. Its grounds are extensive, shady, and beautiful. The reservation embraces 8,640 acres of the choicest agricultural and grazing lands. Over 100 acres are in fruit and orchards. There is a large nursery to which a new forestry department has been added, a dairy herd of 125 cows, a beef herd of nearly 500 head, 600 hogs, 100 horses; also sheep and poultry. The shops are well equipped for training in nearly all the trades. The buildings and dormitories are modern, roomy, homelike, and comfortable.

A new school building and chapel to replace the one destroyed by fire in the fall of 1907 has been authorized, and work on the same will begin in a few days and pushed to completion with all diligence. This, with other improvements of importance to be made, will give Chilocco one of the best equipped and most efficient and comfortable plants in the Service.

Chilocco Training. The school management of Chilocco recently issued a letter to former students which contained the following pithy sentences: "While education and industrial training are important, we feel that the formation of good character and proper ideas and habits of living, duty, service, economy and thrift are of the first importance. Chilocco aims to make it easy to acquire these habits and ideas, but industrial and school-room work are not neglected." Chilocco, it is hardly necessary to say, is not a theological seminary, yet it adopts the policy towards those entrusted to its care of making it easy to do right and hard to do wrong. The cardinal virtues are not forgotten. But it is the means to accomplish ends that concerns teachers. Putting aside for the moment moral considerations, we may state it as a demonstrable fact that for the highest trade success academic training must come first and industrial training second. There is no shop of experienced workmen where it will not be found that the college trained man will rise above his fellows in the more highly skilled trades. It is not our purpose at this time to analyze this proposition, but we present it as an incontrovertible fact. The trained mind, not the trained hand is supreme. This means that thorough, systematic academic training should begin with the Indian as with the white child at an early age. This is abundantly illustrated by the greater aptitude of the younger pupils in all our Indian boarding schools. However, at the present time, for the larger number of our Indian boys and girls, lacking the advantages of early academic education, the industrial training is undoubtedly the more important.

CHILOCCO'S POLICY.

CHILOCCO recognizes that it is the special aim and purpose of Congress in making its generous appropriations for training the Indian youth, to fit them for honorable, worthy, successful citizenship. In accomplishing that result the present management of Chilocco believes that character building, the formation of correct habits and ideas of living, of industry, thrift and economy, and a proper sense of duty and of service, are of the foremost importance for our Indian boys and girls. Special stress is constantly laid upon these things and they are kept in view in all the work and exercises of the school, though the necessity for thoroughness in the industrial and school room work is not in the least to be minimized. A clean, wholesome, moral and religious atmosphere pervades the school, and it will be our purpose to maintain and strengthen it. The feelings of contentment and satisfaction, of harmony and happiness, among our boys and girls assure us that these views and these policies are the right ones.

AGRICULTURE.

CHILOCCO is the agricultural school of the Service. Many boys make a wise choice, when entering school, by passing the shops and indoor work for the broad, level, fertile fields of the school farm. Better instruction for those who desire shop work cannot be found, but the future of most of the Indian boys must be with the tiller of the soil. Indian lands are becoming valuable, but the greatest value is derived from the crops the lands may be made to produce.

Individual gardens were cultivated this spring by every boy and girl enrolled at the school, and greater pride than was shown could not be expected.

Girls in classes of Domestic Science and Domestic Art lost no time from this instruction, but found time to cultivate the individual garden with marked success.

TRAINING.

THE class room work of the school offers boys and girls training along lines most needed by Indian pupils. We can assure those desiring rapid advancement every opportunity.

Vocal music will be taught those desiring it, and the school has good facilities for teaching those taking piano lessons.

The Chilocco band needs no introduction. Boys who have had instruction in other schools are especially desired to continue with the band here.

The united efforts of teachers and instructors will perfect, in the coming year, a course of study equalled by few schools and excelled by none. Pupils enrolling for the ensuing year should be present September 1st in order to secure choice quarters and accommodations. This is not of greatest importance, however, as those coming early for classification will secure the greater benefits.

The News at Chilocco

All stock looks well at Chilocco.

Work will soon commence on the silo.

Grapes are nearly ripe. The crop is first-class.

John Heydorf is repainting and refurbishing Home Two.

Mrs. Edith B. Crawford, teacher, is temporary matron for Home Two.

Mrs. Ida Romaine, of Kansas City, is the new cook of the employee's mess.

Miss Jennie Hood is resting this summer at her home in Winfield, Kansas.

C. O. Preston, nurseryman, has now a salary of $860. Last year it was $800.

Geo. W. Bent, assistant disciplinarian, and family, are at Cody, Nebraska.

Miss Katherine Krebs is caring for Home Three in the absence of Miss Dougherty.

Louis Studer, farmer, says the Chilocco corn crop will be a bumper. It was never better.

Plowing for wheat begins at once on this reservation. Sixty additional acres will be put into alfalfa.

The lawns of Chilocco are a delight to the eye this summer. Wm. H. Hills has not perspired in vain.

Miss Maude Wade, formerly assistant matron under Miss Maddren, of Home Four, is at Miami, Okla.

Mrs. Alice P. Baine is reported to have been married recently to Antonio Scienz, at Anadarko, Okla.

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Dodge, assistant clerk and teacher, are absent on leave at Warrentou, Oregon.

Hay land on this reservation this year will average over a ton, and much of it will run one and a half tons.

Miss Mary Broad, teacher, is enjoying her vacation at Chautauqua, N. Y. She says the bathing is good.

Louis Studer, farmer, found his July check advanced to read $960 per annum instead of $900 as heretofore.

Miss Gertrude M. Golden, teacher, is at Newport, Mich. She has passed part of her vacation in Detroit.

John Heydorf, painter for the Chilocco school, is paid this year $680. Last year his salary was $660.

Miss M. L. Phillips, the ever genial assistant matron of Home Two, is spending her vacation at Salina, Kans.

Miss Kate Miller, Chilocco's cook, has returned from her summer vacation at St. Louis, she greatly enjoying her trip.

Mrs. W. W. McConihe and daughter Frances spent the latter part of July in Chilocco. They are always welcome.

Jacob Leukens, harness maker, is passing his vacation as the humor prompts him. Sometimes here, sometimes there.

About September 1st the smaller girls will take possession of Home Three, Home Two being used by boys exclusively.

Miss M. D. Maddren, assistant matron of Home Four, the larger girls, has been raised in salary from $600 to $660.

Superintendent of Industries O. G. Carner is now paid an annual salary of $1,000. Up to July 1 the salary was $900.

Miss V. R. Underwood, assistant clerk, is away on her annual leave. Her last postoffice address was Fresno, Calif.

Mrs. Rosa B. La Flesche, assistant clerk in Superintendent Wise's office, has had her annual salary advanced from $660 to $720.

Miss Rose Dougherty, assistant matron in charge of Home Three, is quietly spending her vacation at home at White Oaks, Okla.

Miss Gertrude Vaughn is the name of the newly-appointed hospital nurse. Miss Wilhelm retires to again take up private practice.

L. L. Odle, principal teacher of the Chilocco schools, smiled pleasantly when informed that his salary had been raised from $1,000 to $1,200.

The sewing room and domestic art girls, with Miss Fairchild and Mrs. Emma Long superintending, are preparing articles for a Fall bazaar.

John H. Smith, night watchman, has been relieved by Walter Regan and has gone on a vacation visit to Moberly, Mo., where his mother resides.

Miss Florence T. Snyder, commander-in-chief of the dining hall, has returned from her vacation, which she passed at various points in Oklahoma and Kansas.

Miss Alberta Krebs, sister of Katherine Krebs, our kindergartner teacher, has received the appointment of laundress, and has entered upon her duties.

Miss Elinor Z. Fairchild, of the domestic art department, will pass her vacation at Chilocco, the best summer resort on this round ball called earth.

Miss Gertrude M. Golden was among those chosen for increased remuneration for services rendered, being raised from $600 to $660.

Isaac Seneca carries his halo on straight once more, and the reason is plain. The family has returned and the Village Blacksmith hammers his anvil merrily.

George Brown, of Winnebago, Nebr., a former student, visited at Chilocco on his way to Kaw City, Okla., where he is going to work at his trade as harness maker.

The Domestic Art Department, presided over by Miss Elinor Z. Fairchild, was not forgotten by our good Uncle Samuel, who raised the salary of Miss F. from $600 to $660.

Miss M. Pittman, domestic science teacher, is a wandering star. She has been to Manhattan, Kans. Kansas City, Kans., and goes to Lewistown, Mont., and to Seattle, Wash.

Threshing at Chilocco ended at noon August 5, 1909. The wheat was light weight, but the oats turned out fairly well, the yield being 5,600 bushels.

One of the busiest men in Chilocco is Chief Clerk Arthur E. Schaal. But he maintains a placidity through all which entitles him to a membership in the order of Job.

The Sunday School is kept fully alive these summer-vacation days by a few devoted Christian workers. Those in charge last Sabbath were Mrs. J. R. Wise and Mrs. Edith B. Crawford.

John E. Rastall, printer, received a check this month showing that he had not been forgotten in the matter of a raise in salary. He now receives $1,100 per annum. Last year it was $1,000.

Postmaster Claudia Carner is always on hand. The demands upon her for letters and papers are constant. She is the closest to the inner life of Chilocco of any person at the school, and a ready resort for the local reporter.

Otis Mellon, assistant farmer, has been making pork by the ton since early spring. What Mr. Mellon does not know about hogs is not worth finding out. His check at the end of July showed an increase from $660 to $720 per annum.

L. L. Odle is caring for commissary interests in the absence of A. D. Dodge. Mr. Odle is planning some changes at the storehouse, and thinks he has discovered the source of the water in the basement which has been so troublesome.

The printing office is greatly indebted to the engineering department for aid in replacing two burned out motors. The work was speedily and well done. L. E. Carruthers, engineer, and V. K. Stanley, assistant, worked unremittingly to relieve us.

Bertes S. Rader is preparing to tear up the Print Shop lawn on the west side to make a tunnel, four feet square, and to have a concrete sidewalk on the top of it. The tunnel will follow the course of the present surface pipe line, extending from the power house to the dining hall.

The July issue, commencement number, of the Indian School Journal, of Chilocco, Oklahoma, is before us. It is published monthly by the Indian students of the school and is, indeed, an interesting publication. They are printers in the Journal office.—Dispatch-Hustler, Seneca, Mo.

Lawn socials for the entire school are held each Tuesday evening at which ice cream and cookies are served. A band concert also adds to these occasions. The children are allowed to mingle, under the supervision of the officers and teachers, and the jolliest, happiest time imaginable is had. The grounds are beautifully illuminated with electric lights.

Miss Sadie Robertson, teacher, is spending her vacation at Pittsburg, Pa. She was accompanied by Analeta Lopez, a little Pima Indian girl with a growth of hair somewhat remarkable for its abundance, strength, and depth of color. Miss Robertson, before leaving, was informed that her salary had been increased from $600 to $660.

John Lambert and wife (nee Ella Tubbs) were visiting Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gray (Mrs. Gray was formerly Grace Miller), in Arkansas City a few days, and came down to the school to see former teachers and classmates. Mr. Lambert has been employed the past year as engineer at Sac and Fox Agency. They are now on their way back to Mr. Lambert's home in Minnesota.

The carpenters and engineers are busy with the stone crusher, and before this reaches our readers macadam will be pouring out of it and upon the roadways and dam. The roof is from the sheet iron saved at the burning of the school house two years ago. The motor is 20-horse power. The machinery is being erected and the structure built under the personal supervision of Superintendent of Industries O. G. Carner and Engineer L. E. Carruthers.

Here is something for all to remember: (1) New pupils must hereafter be over fourteen years of age. (2) If you live on a reservation or belong under an agent or Superintendent you must apply to him for transfer and railroad tickets. This should be done at once as it will require some time for him to make the arrangements. (3) If you do not belong on any reservation, you should write to Superintendent Wise and tell all about yourself, age, tribe, etc. He will then send blanks and provide railroad tickets if you are eligible.

Christian W. Leib, Chilocco's dairyman, reports that for the month of July, 1909, 34,834 pounds of milk were produced, being an increase of 4,809 pounds over the amount in July, a year ago. The butter made during the same time weighed 1,065 pounds, an increase of 278 pounds over the same month last year. Of the butter made this summer 450 pounds have been packed down for winter use, being sixty pounds more than the amount put away this time last year. The school has had all it could consume. Mr. Leib's salary has been raised from $800 to $840.

Lyle Wise, son of the superintendent, has managed and cultivated a very successful home garden this season, which has been a pleasure and profit to him. Lyle is thorough in everything he touches. During the past winter he has seldom, if ever, missed a session of school, though compelled to ride horseback fourteen miles a day to and from Arkansas City, where he is a senior in the high school. He will go there one more term, and will then probably enter the University of Wisconsin, where his father was a student and graduate. Lyle is very much respected by every one in Chilocco.

H. Keton, our barn and obliging hostler, had a very threatening attack of sickness recently, his temperature going to 104, but fortunately Chilocco's medical department met the difficulty at the start, and he is now again about his business, cheerful as ever. Just before his sickness he stood at the head of his four-horse team at the Santa Fe depot through one of the worst storms of the season. His big carry-all had been overturned by the fierce wind, and a heavy down pour of hail was bombarding both horses and driver. It was a trying ordeal, but Mr. Keton stood through it, and won out.

Twelve hay balers (one steam power), with twenty-four mowing machines, are at work in the hay fields of this reservation. Peter Martinez is overseer and sees to it that the fields being cut on shares send their proper quota to the school barns. He informs us there are now over 7,000 bales of first-class hay already stored in the main barn. A visit to the huge loft shows the storage is being done thoroughly and symmetrically. The bales are laid up as true as bricks in a wall. H. Keton is the master mechanic who handles the plumb-line. All the bales from the steam baler run a hundred pounds or more. The storing is hot, close, hard work, but our Indian boys are equal to it. While in the huge structure Mr. Keton pointed to a spot in the apex of the roof where a big bull snake had been captured. No smile appearing on his benign face, we were compelled to believe the story.

School Gardener B. M. Wade had many setbacks this spring from high water, as twice his garden was destroyed, to say nothing of killing frosts, but he fought hard and the results now show. For instance he has turned into the main school kitchen 160 bushels of roasting ears, so far; 30 bushels of cucumbers, (10 bushels twice a week); 25 bushels of beets; cabbage, since June 1, etc. He has been digging and using potatoes for six weeks past, and has sowed, as a late crop, two acres of turnips. There will be a great crop of pumpkins for pies and sauce. Melons are looking finely. (The first crop was frozen.) Of sweet potatoes we shall certainly have 1,500 bushels. For late sweet corn some five or six acres are now in silk, and it will be ready about Sept. 1, when the students usually begin to arrive. It will be an immense yield. Tomatoes promise well. The first crop was frosted. There will be a big crop.

The lagoon, or lake, which forms so conspicuous and we believe useful purpose in our school grounds here in Chilocco, is quite an erratic affair. Some say it rises every time a cloud passes over it. Certain it is that when storms do come their effect is to cause a rise which threatens to wreck the dam. However, constant vigilance and immediate repair work has thus far saved it, and when the stone crusher gets to work, all uneasiness about it will cease. It is a beautiful body of water, and the only serious regret about it is that the area is not greater. Its surface has furnished us hundreds of fine meals of water fowl in their season, and many a good mess of fish has been caught in it. On August 4, a car load of fish fry, sent special from the United States Bureau of Fisheries, Washington, D. C., passed over the Santa Fe railroad. A consignment of black bass and catfish was delivered here from this car, and placed in the lake. May they increase and multiply. They were a frisky lot and appeared in excellent health.

Chilocco's school painter and the family has the sincere sympathy of all in this their great trouble.

We wish to thank the neighbors and friends who so kindly assisted us in our late bereavement and for the beautiful floral offerings.

MR. AND MRS. JOHN HEYDORF.

The funeral services of the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. John Heydorf, whose death occurred at the Chilocco Indian School, were held this morning at 9 o'clock at the home of Mr. Heydorf's mother, Mrs. W. S. Cooper, at 711 North Fourth street. Rev. John Daniels conducted the services and interment was made in Riverview.—Arkansas City Traveler.

Irvin P. Long is our new assistant engineer. V. K. Stanley has been assigned to tunnel work.

ATHLETICS.

THE fact that the Chilocco Basket Ball Team won the championship of Oklahoma speaks for our athletics.

No pupils or assistants are kept at the school for the purpose alone of making the athletic teams strong. All pupils must maintain a high standard in class room and industrial work in order to be eligible.

Chilocco will organize a football team early in the season and openly challenges any Indian team in the United States which is not coached by a man paid especially for this work. The team will be composed of none but pupils and coached by no one except civil service employes. Our prospects for a winning baseball team were never as good and our track team is only beginning. Boys athletically inclined should not make a mistake in choice of schools for the next three years.

Though comparatively little attention was given to drilling and gymnastic work during the past year, yet our commencement visitors marvelled at the perfect drills given during our closing week. Plans have been made for physical training and instruction for the entire student body next year, thus promoting the health of every pupil, and at the same time affording much pleasure.
