Preface

"Our young ones stand between two worlds, a fine way to go." Thus were the words of a fine Navajo friend, uttered years ago, philosophically, but very true. The theme for this yearbook, "Yesterday, Today, Tomorrow, Forever" is a brave attempt to face all the problems squarely and without fear, with a hope - a desire - for a brighter and without fear, tomorrow, forever. It is a brave attempt to face many dilemmas, often confused, certainly, but not yet ready to surrender, without trying to find solutions. They need kindness of understanding, patience, but most of all LOVE. They need kindness of understanding, patience, but most of all LOVE. Reach forth to them face tomorrow, so do others. Despite Yesterday, help them face tomorrow, leading to the eternal joy, pleasures, rewards of Him who is able and the fountain of eternal love. Your Editor

GREETINGS from Jimmy Baker

From: Jimmy Baker
Chilocco Indian School
Chilocco, Oklahoma

Chilocco Indian School is a name synonymous with success among Indian people throughout the country. The name is a tradition and near legend throughout Indian country. The name is a status among many older Indian people, people who represent the near 7000 who have graduated from Chilocco in its 94 year history.

In 1978 the graduating class will add to the tradition of Chilocco graduating Indians who will readily take their place in society. The big question is, "Will we add to the continuing success that Chilocco graduates aspire to? Are we adding to those who aspire to uphold the richness, pride, and success of the Chilocco tradition?" Realizing that much of the success of graduates of Chilocco is attributed to the joint efforts of the school, students and parents, these same principles must be applied to future success.

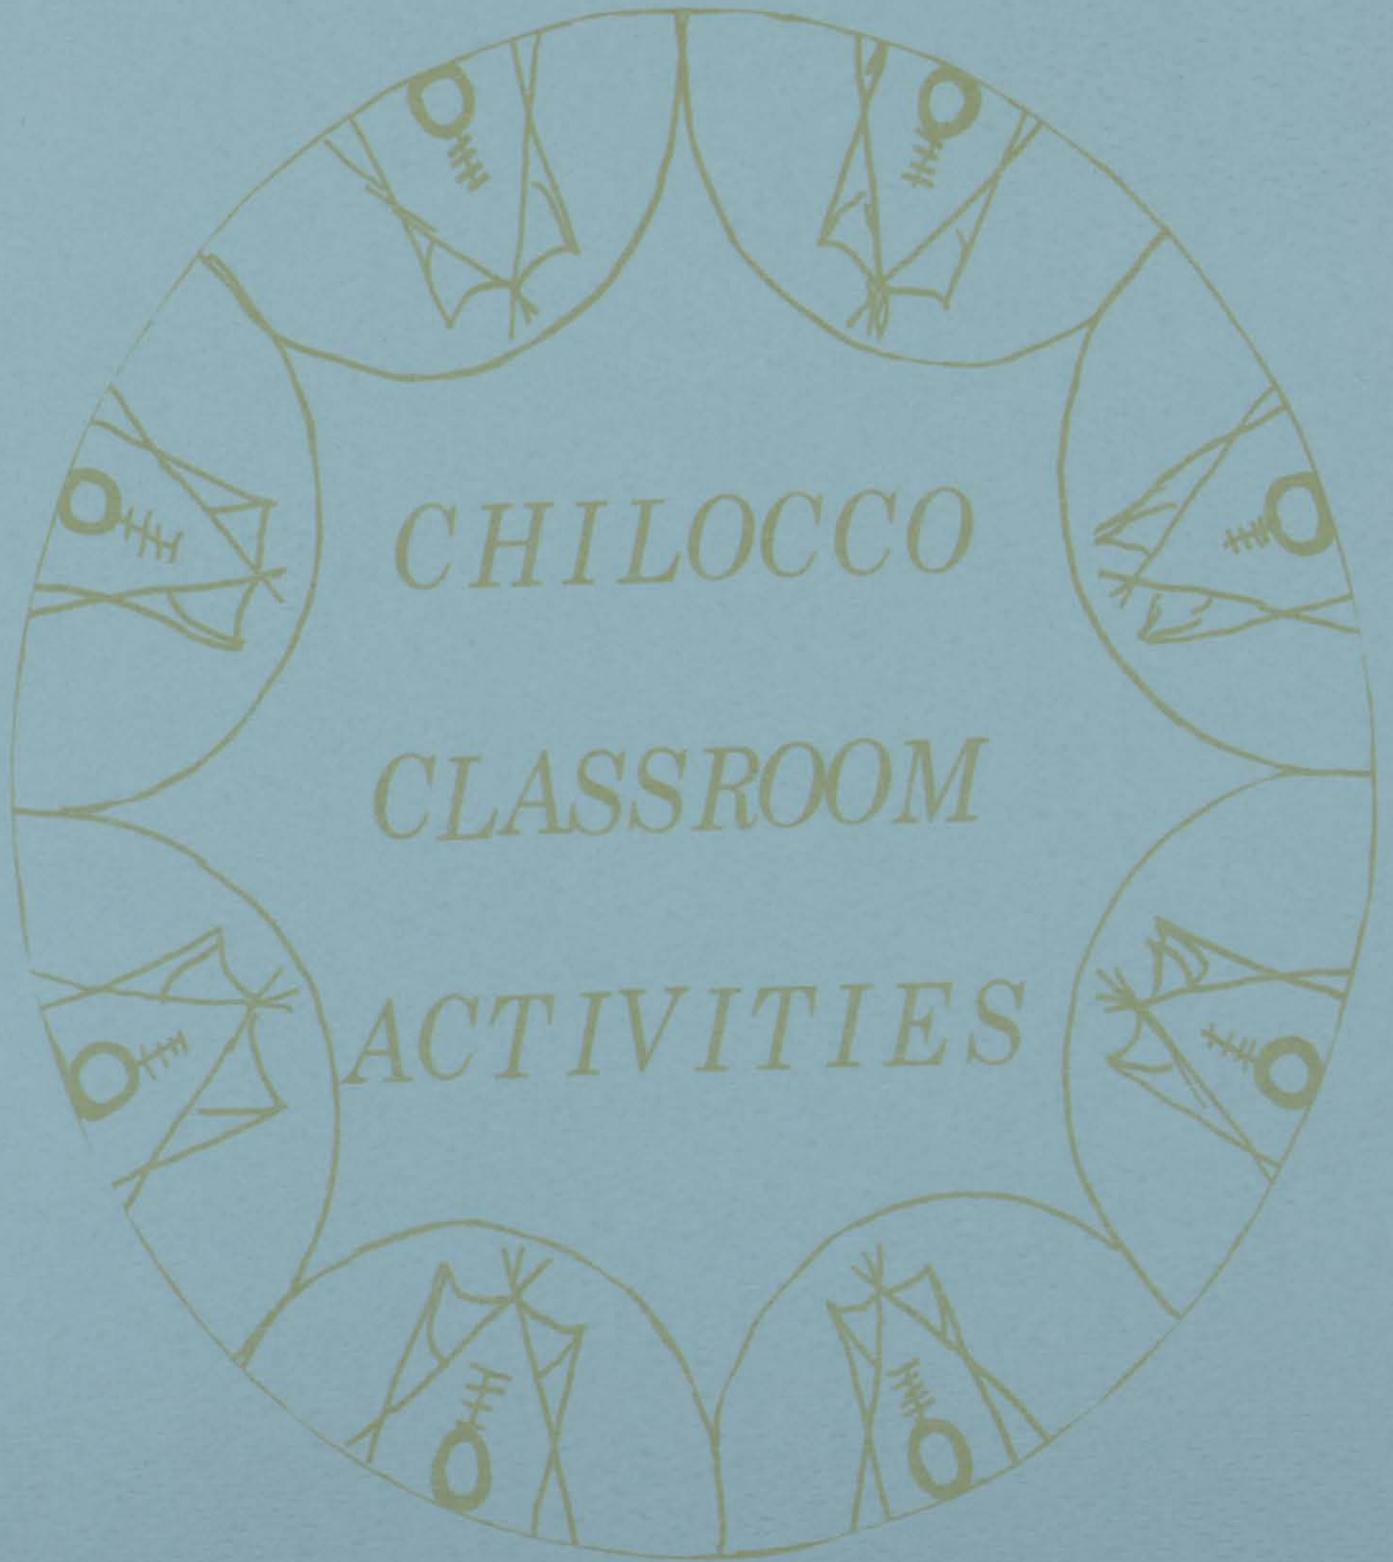

In this respect Chilocco has altered programs to meet prevailing needs of its student clientele. In 1978 this need is prevalent. Thus, in its aspiration to meet prevailing needs, Chilocco will take on the endeavors of providing a concentrated vocational technical program to Indian youngsters who aspire to such training as a permanent means of a livelihood or as a stepping stone to higher goals. The comprehensive vocational program will be backed up by supportive programs designed to enhance the vocational success of each graduate.

Graduates of Chilocco represent all walks of life in our country. Their success can be partially attributed to the discipline of vocational education. Many do not follow it today but will relate their story to the fact it was a stepping stone.

Secondly, when we evaluate the travesty and pain of Chilocco, the beginning coincides with the beginning of de-emphasis of vocations at Chilocco.

Ten years is long enough for a school like Chilocco to flounder and attempt programs all other schools throughout the country are providing. Chilocco always provided a unique program for unique needs. Now, in 1978 we have determined that this unique need is still prevalent and will strive to meet it as we re-emphasize a concentrated vocational and basic education program to add to the rich tradition and pride of Chilocco graduates so that the oldest of Chilocco graduates can identify with the youngest graduate as a proud legend.

Chilocco Boxing: A Story of Success

A story of special individual effort reads like come, my brother let us open the door to memory; carefully for beyond is a glory blinding in its truth.

Boxing at Chilocco began on a club bases in the '20's. During 1932 a training coach Joe Rainman from Wichita, Kansas arrived at Chilocco to select a team to represent Chilocco Indian School in a boxing tournament to be held in Kansas. Many young Indian boys went to the tryouts and a nucleus of the following people formed the club that year.

Benny McIntosh, flyweight; Fred Merrick Jake Seoja and Bert Ahboak, featherweights; Ernest Tahquetta, lightweight; Lewis Curtis, Robert Victor, welterweights; Otho Benn, middleweight and Junior Munsell, light-heavy weight.

The Indians gained recognition as one of the most colorful teams in the district with one champion and a team trophy at the Missouri Valley Golden Gloves in Kansas City. Winners were Benny McIntosh and Junior Munsell. They moved on to Madison Square Garden in New York City, N.Y. and fought in the Golden Gloves there.

This was the beginning of many boxing champions at Chilocco for a period of approximately 20 years. Along with the boxing talent, the coaches that should be recognized were: R.R. Oehmcke, L.E. Correll, Roger Denman, Ray Colglazier and Earl Grinnell. On March 3, 1949 the most colorful sport was discontinued at all BIA schools including Chilocco. Some schools reinstated the sport in the late '50's and early '60's.

But it wasn't until 1974 that boxing returned to Chilocco and true to the Chilocco Boxing Club's historic form it was a dynamic comeback. Bill Karty, Bill Grant and Newman Littlewalker were the coaches in 1974. Wrapping hands, learning to shadow box, punching a heavy bag, keeping the hands up, and jabbing straight—all these boxing fundamentals stressed with hours of practice produced championship boxing again at Chilocco. The boxing club used the name, Chilocco Indians and a gone forever opportunity came back home. Hard work, sweat, and also a commitment on the coaches part produced a school-minded organization which is genuinely interested in concentrating on the welfare and development of the young people of the school.

Boxing gave to many young boys DISCIPLINE, not just a boxing style and being able to walk and talk about boxing but the ability to discipline the mind into channels that produce not only body development but good citizenship as well. In 1974-75 many Chilocco Indian champions were produced: Silas Johnson, Papago; Ronnie Buffalohead, Ponca; Jimmie Cline, Otoe; Regional Golden Gloves winner and Indian Nationals participant, Stewart, Nevada; Dwight Howe, Ponca, Finalist Regionals, Sportsmanship winner; Sherwin Wilson, Papago, Finalist, Regionals and Sportsmanship winner.

A year later in 1976 Chilocco again earned recognition throughout boxing circles with a fine-honed boxing club. Six winners were crowned at the district in Blackwell for both open and novice fighters. Later in the Regionals held in Hutchinson, Kansas. Orvin Flyinghorse won in novice and Tim Parker made his way to the finals.

In 1977 two more winners at the Hutchinson Regionals were crowned, Orvin Flyinghorse won three consecutive bouts with knockouts in the first round in the open division, with the toughest match lastin 2 minutes. In the novice division Clendon Warrior won three bouts by decision.

On March 30, 1977 Orvin Flyinghorse traveled with the Southern and Northern Oklahoma Golden Gloves team to Honolulu, Hawaii. He won his first two matches easily but was stopped by a close decision the second night.

In April 1977, Chilocco Indians traveled to Carson City, Nevada at Stewart Indian School to enter the All Indian Nationals. Orvin Flyinghorse went to the finals and won the Sportsmanship award. Tim Parker and Clendon Warrior got to the semi-finals.

Although boxing isn't considered a team sport (such as football or basketball) there is teamwork involved. We are no one tribe of Indians but Indians winning together.

It is the individual teamwork that counts. Boxers, coaches and promoters make boxing great at Chilocco and Chilocco great in Boxing. When and where it comes to boxing, "Chilocco goes to fight!"

Chilocco Chooses Princess and Brave at Pageant

Chilocco's First Princess & Brave Pageant, sponsored by the Chilocco Indian Club, was held October 9.

Contestants include: Mike Watkins, Ronnie Loneman, Damon Roughface, Camie Pappan, Wesley Hudson, Sandra Haymond, Darren Wilson, Dana Leroy.

Judging for the pageant was based on appearance, poise, Indian Characteristics, "C" scholastic average, citizenship, interest, talent and dedication of advancement of Indian people. Judges included: Mr. Jay Hunter, Director of Mid-American Indian Center, Wichita, Kansas; Mrs. Minnie Johnson, Public Relations Officer for the Cherokee Tribe and member of the Chilocco Advisory School Board; and Mrs. Mabel Cozad, Substitute Teacher at Chilocco.

Princess selected was Shirley Yeahquo an Apache-Kiowa from Bylas, Arizona and daughter of Betty Reede and Luke Yeahquo.

Runner-up was Sandra Haymond, Pawnee-Otoe and daughter of Rachel Haymond and the late Ralph Haymond of Pawnee, Oklahoma.

Brave chosen was Damon Roughface, a member of the Ponca Tribe and son of Mr. & Mrs. Paul Roughface of Ponca City, Oklahoma. Runner-ups for Brave included Wesley Hudson, son of Mr. & Mrs. Percy Hudson of Oklahoma City and Dana Leroy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Leroy of Ponca City, Oklahoma.

Each contestant was required to submit an essay entitled, "IF GIVEN AN OPPORTUNITY, WHAT WOULD YOU DO FOR YOUR INDIAN PEOPLE." YOU

Following are a few of the essays written:

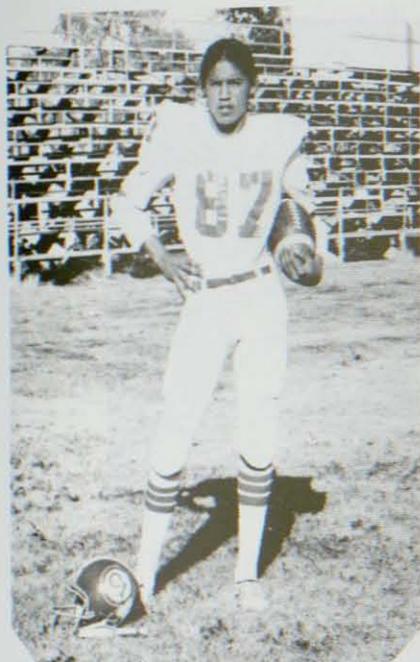

Hello, I'd like to thank all of you for coming, and we're very glad to have you here with us tonight. There is just one thing I want to say, if I had the opportunity to help my Indian people in some way, I would get out there and fight for the amount of Education that I would need to become a good doctor. Then I would come back and start healing the wounds that's been hurting our Indian people for so long. Then I'd attempt to drive away or do away with the various diseases that's been killing off our Indian people. Thank you.

(By Ronnie Loneman, Cheyenne from El Reno, Oklahoma)

I would like to talk about education for the Indian people because I see myself that more and more Indians are not educated the way they should be. They are not able to adjust to the changing of society. The Indian people today need to know how to take care of themselves and their family. They need an education to provide for their families. Education is the most important thing we need right now. Through Education we can help others. You may think that you will get an education, if you stay home, but we all know that to get educated, you must go to school and do your best!

It would certainly be unforgivingly remiss of us, in publishing another yearly annual, to forget to pay honor to all those School Board members both pictured and not pictured, who have labored dilligently for Chilocco Indian School's interests yesterday, today, or who will do so tomorrow. In drifting thru the file we came across this one, a representative group. Pictured from left to right we honor, out of the past, in present, and future members: Francis Drexil, Levi Stevens, Vivian Archambault, Emmett Primeaux, Minnie Johnson, Lawanna Brown (rear), Bill Wakolee (rear), and Gloria Jean Ware.

CHILOCCO RECREATION

The living rooms of the dormitories were favorite "after hours" congregating places for all students. Along with hours spent here were those pleasant hours spent at the Student Union where friends could sit and just talk or drink a coke with snacks from the canteen.

Many of you will remember the hectic fun of play days held in the spring. See Patti Martin and Kay Austin there?

And if it was your desire, you could spend many pleasant hours at the indoor swimming pool. Remember?

A TULSA boxer gets in a lucky punch on Chilocco's Ronnie Loneman at Friday's bout in Newkirk, Oklahoma.

Chilocco Boxers Repel Tulsa

The Chilocco Boxing Club won seven matches and lost only two as they whipped the Tulsa Indian Youth Center boxing club over this past weekend at Newkirk, Oklahoma.

The coaches Littlewalker and Battiest feel certain that the Chilocco boxers would have really widened the gap had the Tulsa team matched up their fighters against the likes of Tim Parker, Tony Parker, Steve Whitehorn and Dwight Howe.

All the fighters except for Tim Parker won very impressive bouts at Tulsa earlier. Tim Parker, who wanted to avenge his earlier defeat to Tulsa's Joel Echohawk, was very disappointed because Echohawk failed to appear.

Chilocco won four of their fights by knockouts. Danny Page of Chilocco put Clarence Wapskinih away in the first round with a straight right. Orvin Flyinghorse followed in his usual manner by knocking out Kerry Butler in the third round.

Vincent Parker was very impressive in decisioning F. Hart. Ronnie Loneman, an impolite host, stopped J. Wallace in the first round with his heavy barrages. Larry Mayes and LeClair both decisioned their Tulsa opponents for Chilocco. In the night cap, Fred Hudson knocked out Earl Echohawk in the third round.

Manuel Eagle and Bruce Loneman fought very good fights but lost to Bazille and Anquoe respectively.

The curtain raiser saw Gerald Battiest lose his first fight to J. Mayes.

The Chiloccoans are supposed to be in Oklahoma City this weekend. On February 27th, 28th, they will be at the Blackwell Golden Gloves Tournament. On March 12th, and 13th, the local club will be at the Hutchinson Golden Gloves. The open class winners of this tournament will go to Miami, Florida and represent the Northern Oklahoma and Southern Kansas boxers in the Tournament of Champions in the Orange Bowl.

COUPLE OF THE WEEK

The Couple of the Week is Toni Martin and Randall Sam. Toni Martin is 14 years old and is a member of the Seminole and Creek Indian tribe. She is from Oklahoma City. She said when they first met they were just friends. When asked what they liked about each other they simply said, "Each other." They didn't know how long they have been going together. Her hobby is basketball and she spends her pastime watching T.V. Her favorite food and drink is anything edible and drinkable. She doesn't have any favorite song or group.

Randall Sam is a 16 year old and a member of the Cheyenne and Arapaho Indian tribe. He is from Clinton, Oklahoma. When asked how long they have been going together he said, "too long." His hobby is boxing. He spends his pastime watching T.V. or fighting around. His favorite food is anything edible. He doesn't have any favorite group or song.

Supt. Jimmy Baker addressed the North American Indian Womens' Assn. during its convention here, summer, 1977.

CHILOCCO'S ARKALALAH FLOAT CAPTURES 2 PRIZES THIS YEAR

By Neil Lussier and Mr. Francis Kirkland

Every year people come from all around the country to enjoy the big Arkalalah events that occur during the end of the month of October just immediately before the advent of Halloween. The big parade on Saturday, October 29, 1977, capped the entire affair. This parade follows the route of the main thoroughfare in Arkansas City, Kansas, just to the north of the Chilocco Indian School. Many floats classified under various categories take part in this grand parade including our grand masterpiece. We were all especially proud of the Chilocco float this year and cannot overlook the fact that many hours of planning and hard work went into this project.

Mr. Francis Kirkland, Welding Class instructor, with the assistance of welding students often, makes the basic metal framework required while Mr. Henry Hendrickson, a carpenter laboriously works out the detailed wooden frame requirements. Then the float superstructure decorations and final form are built up from the ideas and drawings made by Mr. Angelo Jacovelli, Yearbook, newspaper sponsor and managing editor as well as an English teacher on our academic staff. Mrs. Ida Larney, Business Education and Typing class instructor, along with Mrs. Sandy Wilson, Arts and Crafts teacher, Mr. Tom Hardin, Driver instructor and Music teacher, all worked on the final decorations of the beautiful float which took two first place prizes this year, the best homemade one and the one that best stayed with the theme, Autumn Jubilee. Last, but certainly not least of the rewards for all the work are the wonderful comments on our magnificent float along with the positive relationship for the Chilocco School and some 50,000 people estimated to have watched the parade. This was fine publicity for the school. Those who labored lovingly on the project certainly deserve a big applause for their work.

New Dimension Added To Chilocco Print Shop

By Terry Dawson

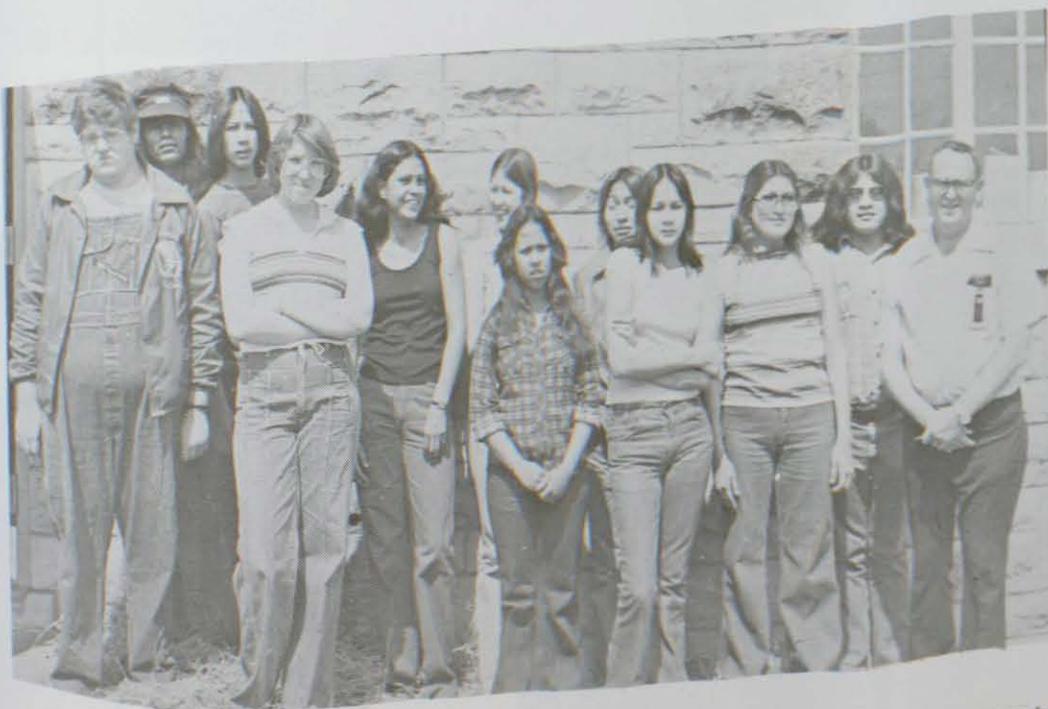

A new dimension has been added to the print shop recently with the purchase of an IBM Electronic "Selectric" Composer. This machine and similar machines on the market today are gradually making the lineotype obsolete.

The IBM comes equipped with a working memory that lets you justify, format, and correct electronically...up to 8,000 characters and codes.

Even though the machine costs $8,500, it will be a great benefit to the print shop students especially girls, since there is a possibility of employment directly out of high school. The requirement for the efficient use of this machine is that the student must be able to type with speed and accuracy.

Introducing:

MR. ROBERT TETREAUULT NEW SCHOOL PSYCHOLOGIST

Mr. Robert Tetreault from Scranton, Pa., has been employed as the Chilocco school psychologist for the past month and a half. He says that it is a nice school and has a lot of potential for both students and staff. He is looking forward to a beneficial stay here at Chilocco. Most of the students he has met seem to be very friendly towards all the staff. The students are cooperative towards any suggestions that he has made and they try to work hard for themselves. It is the staff psychologist duty to evaluate the institution and initiate changes for the betterment of the school. He stated that he hopes to be of help to any and all students having problems and help them determine how to cope with their problem.

Supt. Baker Receives Pin

By Jackie Miller

Mr. Jim Baker came to Chilocco in 1958 as a Junior and graduated in 1960. He received a Vocational Certificate in industrial Electricity. After Graduation he spent a short term in the service and returned to Arkansas City Junior College for a year. While attending college, he lived on the campus. He went to college in the mornings and took training in the afternoons. He received another certificate from Chilocco for vocational Pa'nting and found that with those two vocationals, he was able to pay most of his way through college.

Mr. Baker started working in 1962 at Concho Indian School as a Dormitory Recreation Aide. He worked there until 1965, then went to college at Cameron University located in Lawton, Oklahoma. After a semester at Cameron, he transferred to Southeastern State College at Durant, Oklahoma and graduated in 1969.

His next assignment in the BIA was at Intermountain Indian School located at Brigham City, Utah as a Sociology teacher. He finished the '71 school year at Intermountain and then attended Penn State University to work on a Masters Degree in Administration-after obtaining a Masters Degree, he started work on his Doctorate. As part of his research work on his Doctorate, he worked with the Mississippi Choctaw Tribe as Director of the Program for Early Childhood Education.

He Returned to Chilocco as the first Superintendent to be an Alumni of the School. With the 1977-78 term he became eligible for his 10 year service pen.

Mr. Baker stated that "All Chilocco students should take some type of vocational training and really apply themselves to learning the vocation they choose. Even though they may never use the vocation as a profession they will be able to use it in some form, either in working at home or as a part-time job while getting a college education.

Supt. Jimmy Baker receives his ten year civil service pin from Mr. Stanley Speaks, Area Director at Anadarko, Oklahoma.

Two Former Chilocco Graduates Present Fife Fashion Collection

The Ithana Study Club of Henryetta, Oklahoma sponsored the most recent showing of "The Fife Collection". It was presented recently at the Henryetta Civic Center.

"The Fife Collection" is a collection of contemporary Indian fashions designed and made by five members of the Jim Fife family.

The items are made using contemporary patterns and fabrics with the addition of either traditional Muscogee designs found on clay and shell artifacts or traditional Seminole patchwork designs. The designs are applied through the techniques of embroidery, applique, beadwork, ribbonwork, and patchwork.

Three of the designers are graduates of Chilocco. Carmen Griffin Fife was a 1934 graduate. She took Arts and Crafts training under Miss Mable Morrow at the Santa Fe Indian School, taught at Riverside, California, and attended college at Adams State in Colorado, and the University of Oklahoma at Norman. She and her husband Jim Fife have five daughters and three sons. She is a community news reporter for several news-
